

INDIANAPOLIS STAR IS "BLACK HAL CHASE"

The Indianapolis negro team, which plays the Caulfield Ads at Heinemann Park Saturday, Sunday and Monday, will bring to New Orleans a player they claim is the best negro player in his position in the country. He is Ben Taylor, first baseman.

As a foot-shifter and contortionist Taylor has been called "the black Hal Chase."

The Indianapolis team is now training at Birmingham. It is the only one of the northern negro teams that came south for spring training.
