

The Dayton Marcos are taking the silent treatment, but are expected to trot out with fire in their eyes. Matthews has collected quite a classy gang, -his scouts covering near all the territory between Norfolk, Va., and Texas. The Marcos succeeded in uncovering some likely looking material, and, as they have a mighty tough schedule to play right early, no doubt whatever exists over their class or present form.

Chicago Defender, Chicago, IL

Saturday, April 17, 1920, Page 9, Column 3