

The A. B. C.'s apparently have uncovered a find in Houston, the rookie infielder covering the second base territory. Owens, a Smoky City pitch find, has worked a few games and has displayed rare form for a beginner. Longware, a boy grabbed from the Southland, joined the team and broke into the game with a bang. Dismukes and Powell, the veteran battery, are flashing championship form.

Chicago Defender, Chicago, IL

Saturday, April 24, 1920, Page 9, Column 1