

MARCOS LOSE TO THE GIANTS

By Dave Wyatt
Operating with a makeshift team, as a result of injuries to the important cogs in their playing machine, the Dayton Marcos were lucky to cross the platter in the game here Sunday against the league leaders. The Marco pitchers failed to hurl the ball so that it could be hit, so the Giants walked to first, then not a few of them stole near the whole route to the home base. The locals are bound to continue their lead on all circuit rivals unless some throwing catchers show up on the circuit soon and the pitchers learn to hold the men on the bases. Tom Williams gave a grand exhibition of how to watch the bases and, incidentally, satisfied the huge throng of fans that he is the most efficient slab artist that the Giants have ever owned. The Marcos appear to have the material for a grand team, but it must be whipped into line, and like many of the other teams...

many of the other teams, that seems to be the real problem. There appears to be a dearth of field generals, that is, the sort like the old school used to boast of, and the Foster clan are pulling stuff on all circuit competitors that is making the show look amateurish in the extreme. There is not a team on the circuit but what has material that measures in ability to the locals, but they have not the leaders who can instill that fighting spirit of do or die. Dad Johnson, Sol White, Earl and others of the old school still live and are active; we are going to have more fighting on the diamond; the fans are tiring of a one-team league.

The score of the Sunday game:

GIANTS					MARCOS
	R.	H.	P.	A.		R.	H.	P.	A.
B. Will's, ss.	1	0	3	2	G. Brown, 1b.	0	3	8	0
Malar'r, 3b.	1	1	1	2	Gardner, lf.	0	1	0	0
DeMoss, 2b.	1	1	3	3	W'd, rf-2b.	0	0	3	2
Forrienti, cf.	0	1	2	0	Lane, 3b-p-rf.	0	0	1	1
J. Brown, c.	0	2	3	0	Ta'r, 2b-3b.	0	0	2	2
Gans, rf.	1	0	2	0	Alex'r, cf.	0	0	4	0
Grant, 1b.	2	2	12	0	Cunha'm, ss.	0	0	1	3
Riese, lf.	2	0	1	0	Webster, c.	0	0	4	3
T. Will's, p.	0	1	0	4	Raglan, p.	0	0	0	0
					Cole'n, rf-p.	1	1	1	0
Totals	8	8	27	11	Totals	1	3	24	11
Marcos	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0-1
Giants	2	3	0	0	0	2	0	1	2-5
Errors—Webster, G. Brown. Two-base hit—
J. Brown. Struck out—By Williams, 3; by Raglan; 1; by Lane, 1.

Chicago Defender, Chicago, IL

Saturday, July 24, 1920, Page 9, Columns 4 and 5