

Connors and Savage Disagree
New York, June 4.—From an authoritative source our sporting department was informed last week that the Bacharach Giants will not be seen in action again this season at Dyckman Oval. So the story goes, it was learned that the management of the oval and Mr. Connors had a disagreement over financial matters, involving the amount of percentage to be paid his (Mr. Connors') team. Each faction declare they are right. For the benefit of baseball fans who travel to the oval each Sunday to see the games there should be some consideration shown, but they are the least thought of. Some of these days whoever is wrong will learn their lesson. Then, maybe, there will be better baseball in the East.

Chicago Defender, Chicago, IL

Saturday, June 5, 1920, Page 9, Column 5