

St. Louis, Mo., April 30.—Field Manager Dick Wallace tried out three of his new pitchers here last Sunday in a game against the Welstons of the city league. Luther, the recent pitching acquisition from the east, released a performance that was entirely satisfactory to the manager and his work was approved all o. k. by the fans. Oldam and Finner both worked a few innings and their work revealed enough class to warrant the belief that we have a staff of pitchers, as well as a team that is going to make a lot of trouble for the new circuit entrees who aspire to leading rolls. We work out again Sunday against a team of hand-picked stars from all over the city. We are not so particular about these fellows, as the games with them are only to put us in shape for the main show, which will start here when the K. C. Monarchs land here for a series starting May 9. At that we expect to have our team all polished and in good working order, and we are going to show our heels to the boys in the circuit before the first of July.
