

CUBAN STARS HERE

The famous Cuban Stars will be the next aggregation of ball tossers to tackle the American Giants. The Cubans start their battling here Sunday, May 30, and will go on through Decoration day and a series of week-day scraps. The Cubans have a real team and many faces new to the fans. They have managed though handicapped by cold, wet weather, to break even on the series played with the A. B. C.'s and they fought the Detroit Stars to a level. Hernandez will make his initial bow to the fans and he is one of the brainiest pitchers that has come over from the Islands in a long spell. In Drake the fans will see a hard hitting and fast outfielder, one of Cuba's best. Lopez is one of the best fielding third sackers in the game and Herrera and Valdez, also Guerra, can be depended upon to put up an article of ball that will please. The boy wonder, Abrien, is catching in that form that made him the favorite of the baseball populace.

last year and Baro is hitting and fielding in a manner that is depressing to all opponents. Manager Molina has fond hopes of reinforcements by the time he gets here; so with the men who are expected from Havana, with those already here going good, the fans of Schorling park are in for some real pastiming next week.
