St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 15.—Jess Haines held the St. Louis Giants to a couple of hits at Giants' Park yesterday and the Cardinal Barnstormers won the second game to even up the series. The score was 5 to 0. Gatewood got the first hit off Haines in the seventh inning, after holding the Cards to one run in four got the other. In addition Haines fanned seven batters and walked only one.

Carr started pitching for the Giants, and, after holding the Cards to one run in four innings, was knocked off the mound in the fifth, when the All-Stars put over four runs. Gatewood was the relieving pitcher and held the Stars scoreless in the last four innings.

The Cards counted in the first, when Schultz was safe on an error and went to third on Fournier's single. He scored on Stock's sacrifice fly.
