

EASY FOR HILLODALE

Local Colored Champions Blank Babe Ruth and His All-Stars

Ideal baseball weather yesterday afternoon brought out about 2500 fans to the National League Park to see "Babe" Ruth and Associates pitted against Ed. Bolden's Hilldale team, the colored champions of the east. The home run kings of their respective spheres were here to match their skill with the ash and both were given a great hand when they appeared at the plate for their first time up. Many had journeyed to the park with the expectation of seeing Ruth add to his already long list of home runs, but were doomed to disappointment for he proved a rank failure against the offerings of Florraby. Score, 5 to 0.

RUTH'S STARS.
