

A SCORELESS TIE

Neither Bridesburg Nor Bacharach Registers in Ten Innings

One of the best games of the season was played yesterday afternoon between Bridesburg and Bacharach Giants, of Atlantic City, at Richmond and Orthodox streets, and after battling ten innings, play was called on account of darkness with neither side crossing the plate.

Tommy Volz was pitted against Lefty Williams and was in remarkable form. The colored champions only had one runner reach third base and Tom was exceptionally steady, issuing but a single pass. Chads Fairburn was the star afield. Bridesburg closes the baseball season with the game on Sunday, October 9. On this coming Sunday, they play Tom Keady's Bethlehem champions of the Steel League.
