

Semi-Pro Fans Have Treat To-day At Ebbets Field

Brooklyn baseball fans will not have an idle afternoon at Ebbets Field to-day because of the absence of the Dodgers. Charley Ebbets, through J. W. Connors and Baron D. Wilkens, has arranged to have the famous Bacharach Giants of Atlantic City and the A. B. C. team of Indianapolis play the eighth and ninth games of their series for the colored championship.

To date the Bacharachs have the edge, 5 to 4. The teams rank among the best in the country and two good games are assured.

Cannon Ball Redding, Red Ryan, Stringbean Williams and Treadwell will pitch for the Bacharachs, with Dismukes and Dickety Johnson on the firing line for the visitors.

New York Tribune, New York, NY

Monday, September 6, 1920, Page 8, Column 7