

Colored Nines Meet Today.

Rube Foster's American Giants will clash with the Bacharach Giants this afternoon at the American League Park in the first of a two-game series to settle the world colored team baseball championship.

Managers for both aggregations announce their players on their toes for the series, and fans look for a real scrap in the opener today between the Western and Eastern champions. Foster's nine has made a clean sweep in the West this season, and the Bacharach squad claims the same record for play in the East. The game will be called at 3 p. m. The second game is slated for tomorrow.
