

WHISKERS LOSE IN BACHARACH GAME

House of David Nine Defeated by Negro Team, 4 to 2,
at Shibe Park

Twelve thousand fans refused to take a day off from baseball with both the Phils and A's idle, so they visited Shibe Park yesterday afternoon and witnessed a unique game of the national pastime between bowhiskered and gentlemen of color clubs. The bearded baseballians didn't win because the negro nine made twice as many runs, the House of David team being defeated by the Bacharach Giants, of Atlantic City, 4 to 2.

Fleetness of foot was a more potent factor in the Bacharach conquest than any prowess with the bat. Six thefts were committed by the sunburnt tossers, who managed to populate the base paths on many occasions as a result of having worked Southpaw Brogan, the beardless pitcher of the bearded team, for free transportation on eight different occasions.

Brogan is a member of the House of David battery, consisting of Brogan and Phelan. Neither of this duo is connected with any tribe of Israel, except in a financial way.

Bacharach deposited the first run of the combat in the opening inning. One down. Marcells beat out a hit to the bearded Falkenstein. He promptly stole second. Lundy followed with a walk. Marcells was nailed trying to steal third. Lundy going to second.

from where he counted on a single to left that rang from the ash of Brown.

The curious tribe from Benton Harbor, Mich., tied the figures in the fourth, Tally. He did. Mr. Tally started his tally with a single to starboard, Phelan's lawn sacrifice pushed him to second, Brogan's single to right, his second straight hit, tallied Tally.

It was in the fifth that the Bacharach's clinched the verdict. Thouth they registered only one hit, they managed to put two runs over the plate. Lundy led off with a walk. Brown bunted, but Brogan elected to throw to second. His peg was too late, and both hands were safe. Both runners advanced when Brogan threw past second in an effort to get Lundy napping.

Lundy popped to Williams. Brogan threw out Pierce, but Lundy was wide awake and scored on the play. Mediro walked. Brown and Mediro caught the House of David asleep, working the double steal, the former scoring.

The enemies of the barber trust counted their second and what proved to be their final run in the seventh. Veiritz inaugurated this session with the healthiest hit of the pastime, a triple to right. After H. Hannaford fanned, E. Hannaford brought home his bewhiskered mate with a single to right.

In the Bacharach seventh another run was banked. Marcell's double, steal of third and an infield out manufactured this marker.
