

Colored Ace Will Fling at Locals Today

The colored pitching ace of baseball will mount the peak at the stadium this afternoon when the New York Lincoln Giants and San Diego combat in the second game of the series at 2:30 o'clock.

Having been forced into defeat yesterday, the first sustained by the colored champions since they've been on the coast, Manager Alexander was prepared to shove Jesse Hubbard, the crack pitcher, against Downey's men.

Downey planned to use Elmer Hill for San Diego, although he might change at the last minute and send "Speed" Martin, of the Chicago Cubs, to the knoll. In view of the fine game Hill pitched against the Giants in the north, it was practically certain he would be nominated.

MEADOWS STOPPED 'EM

The Giants yesterday showed themselves to be a fighting aggregation. They made a great hit with the local fans, and but for the great pitching of Lee Meadows, the Philadelphia star, Downey's gang would have been lucky to capture the contest.

Meadows showed a world of stuff and had the Giants buffaloes until the eighth inning. when an infield bobble gave them life and they counted three runs which put them striking distance.

ROCHE SLAPS HOMER

The deciding factor was Jack Roche's home run into the left field bleachers. This blast carried a laugh with it, for Poles, the fleet left fielder, chased back of the screen, retrieved the ball in time to make a play on Roche, but forgot the wire netting separating himself from the home plate, chucked the ball into the netting and almost was wounded when it bounced back to him.

Gardner pitched well for the Giants after a shaky first frame. Timely raps by the San Diego swatters accounted for three runs in this period.

The fielding and hitting of Downs, the Lincoln shortstop, was the feature of the game, aside from the pitching of Meadows. Downs made plays yesterday which convinced the fans that the Giant management is not boasting when they claim Downs the best colored infielder in baseball.

Pete Compton carried his batting eye again and dented the ball for a pair of the locals' seven safeties. Compton has been hitting the ball at a .500 clip since joining the local club.
