Atlantic City Team Captures
Final Game of Series From Locals by 10 to 0

Hilldale and the Bacharach Giants, of Atlantic City, N. J., battled at Shibe Park yesterday afternoon, the latter outclassing the Darby team, 10 to 0, in the final game of the series before some 5000 fans. Williams, who started to twirl for Hilldale, went well for three innings, in which time the out-of-town clan got but one bingle safe, but in the fourth frame something went wrong with his shoots, for the opponents nicked him for a triple, double and three singles, in addition to which he passed a batter, resulting in five tallies going over before help reached him, Cockerell being rushed to the rescue. The fifth frame was a quiet one for Bacharach, but in the sixth they turned loose their fence busters again, this time sending the count up three more, with two triples and two singles, and to show they were not unsociable, added one in the eighth and ninth innings.

"Cannon Ball" Redding had the Indian sign on Hilldale and let the Darby boys down with three singles and struck out seven, hit one batter with a pitched ball and gave three bases on balls. Not satisfied with pitching a great game, he monopolized the aggressive end of the battle, also scoring three runs and getting three hits, two of which were three-baggers. The work of Poles and Lloyd with the willow must not be overlooked, for their wallops were responsible for several runs gathered. The nearest that Hilldale got to the plate was in the ninth inning, when Santop reached third.
