

PHILLY GIANTS TO PLAY BLACK SOX

With the Philadelphia Giants, who will play the Black Sox a double-header Sunday at Westport, will be Latimer, who is said to be the star colored pitcher of the country. Fans in the Quaker City who have seen him in action declare that were he white he would be in the National or American league. Gardner, who has won 14 straight for the Black Sox, will be called upon to pitch against Latimer. Joe Lewis is leading the Sox at bat, with an average over .400. Due to a timely single by George Gray in the ninth inning the Sox were able to win one of their two games with the Rex Athletic Club, of Washington, D C. Two men were on bases and two hands were out when Gray came through with his timely wallop

---

Baltimore American, Baltimore, MD

Sunday, September 7, 1919, Page 12b, Column 7