William Rufus Norman Lets
Brewers Down With a Measly Three Hits.

"Mistah" William Rufus Norman, pioneer twirler of the Chicago Union Giants, gained plenty of glory and proved himself a genius here in the eyes of the multitudes present, by twirling his mates to victory against the Storz-Triumphs at Rourke park. Score, 4 to 1.

The Giants by winning the Sunday's battle evened up matters for Saturday's loss. It was a hard struggle up to the last round and kept the spectators on edge at all times. The dusky crowd especially, plored the welkin with their lusty rooting when things turned in favor of the Giants.

The brewers bumped into a stumbling block in the person of "Mistah" Norman. He refused to yield but three safe ones, besides possessing perfect control. He also did yeoman service with the stick.

"Del" Alderman labored well on the slab for the brewers after the bad first round. The southpaw was invincible in the next seven innings, but weakened perceptibly in the ninth.

The windy city boys started right at top of the kong. Coleman strolled and Jenkins forced him. "Plek" walked and Peters' an glanced off Alderman's glove to Graham. Drummy dropped, Graham's loss and Jenkins scored when Drummy recovered the pill and throw high to home. Francis' Texas leaguer scored "Plek."

The Storz scored in the second when Welch received a life on Francis' error. Graham forced him at second and Drummy hit to right. Walker hoaved the sphere over "Pick's" knob and "Smoke-house" George registered.

Bradford's lads had a splendid opportunity in the third. With men on third, and second and no one out, Norman retired the next three batsmen. Dougherty struck out and Durkee and Welch fled out.

The colored twirler had easy sailing thereafter. Alderman opened up the fifth with a solid double but was caught napping by Coleman.

Nothing occurred until the ninth when the Giants swelled their total on a pass and two hits. Norman retired the Storz star stickers with ease in their last half and all was over.
