
SEASON TO END WITH A TWIN BILL.

All-Stars Will Meet Chicago Giants in a Double Header Sunday.

Next, Sunday will see the passing of the 1919 baseball season here when, a double header will be played at Association Park. Rube Foster's Chicago Americans will meet the All Stars in the final games. The two teams are playing a five-game series, the All Stars already having won two. But Foster's club has not been defeated in a five-game series for the past three seasons and is confident of winning both games Sunday.

John Donaldson, who worked six innings of the game last Sunday, has completely recovered from a recent injury and will face the All Stars in the opening game. Whitworth and Dave Brown will be the hurlers held in reserve for the second contest.
