

NEGRO BASEBALL CLUB IS ORGANIZED HERE

The Fort Worth Colored Baseball Company has been organized in this city with J. Amsey Ligon of Fort Worth as president. Enoch Whittaker, owner of the Dallas Black Giants of Dallas, has been named vice president and James Whitlow of Fort Worth manager.

The team will be known as the Black Panthers, and the players will be picked from the best negro aggregations in the country.

The schedule of the Colored League is being rearranged so as to include the Black Panthers and the following teams as members of the league: Waco Black Navigators, Dallas Black Giants, Beaumont Black Oilers, Shreveport Black Senators and Houston Black Buffaloes.

The citizens of Fort Worth can be assured of some clean fast ball playing at Panther Park when the white league team is out of the city.

The Fort Worth Hornet, a local negro newspaper, will carry a sporting page with a statistical report and the standing of the teams composing the league.

The opening games with the Austin Black Senators are scheduled here for Tuesday and Wednesday, May 6 and 7, at Panther Park.
