

BASE BALL

There will be a big game of ball at Carney's Point next Wednesday, when the famous Salem Giants, which defeated Elmer's crack bunch last Saturday, will stack up against Hilldale, the famous colored team from Philadelphia.

Connie Mack, of the American League Athletics, will furnish the twirler for Elmer this Saturday, when they cross bats with the speedy Turner Field Club, of Philadelphia. Stirling, who has been Elmer's trump card in the pitching department, has been drafted into the army, and a pitcher as yet unnamed, from the staff of the former world's champions, will be supplied the balance of the season.
