

ALL-WATERTOWN AND RED SOX AGAIN

COLORED TEAM'S VICTORY LAST SUNDAY LENGTHENS SERIES

BEST 3 OUT OF 5 GAMES

Colored Management Strengthens Team and Bet on Pop's Best to Win — "Doc" Morgan, Syracuse
Moose Twirler Will Surely Pitch
For Watertown Sunday.

Because of the fact that the Havana Red Sox defeated the All-Watertown team in the game at Garland City Park last Sunday, the locals will again have to play the colored team this coming Sunday in an effort to capture the third game of the series of the best three out of five. There has been some misunderstanding among the management of the two teams over the games. The All-Watertown management understood that the series was to a best two out of three game affair while, the colored management insists that the agreement was to play the best three out of five games.

A long drawn out argument between the management of the two teams, taking up nearly the entire week, has resulted in several side bets being laid among private individuals on the outcome of Sunday's game. Two supporters of the colored team offered $50 each at even money that the colored team would not only capture Sunday's game but would take the series of the best three out of five games played. Both bets were taken by Watertown supporters, and if there is any more colored money in sight it will be readily gobbled up.

All-Watertown won the first two games of the series from the colored tossers and things looked easy for them to capture the third and final game when they stacked up against the colored men last Sunday. However, Pop Watkins sprung a surprise on the locals when his outfit defeated All-Watertown 9 to 5.

While Pitcher Doc Morgan, the Syracuse Moose twirler, who has not lost a game this season, was scheduled to twirl in last Sunday's game his services were cancelled at the last moment as there was a possibility that no game would be played. However, the local fans can rest assured that Morgan will be on the hill for Watertown against the Havana Red Sox Sunday and the All-Watertown management says he will be there to win. Morgan has established the record of striking out 22 men in twelve innings he pitched against the Red Sox Memorial Day. He also defeated and held All-Watertown to three scattered hits here a few weeks ago.

It is anticipated that Pop Watkins will spring a surprise on the locals in the way of several new players Sunday. It leaked out last night that three new colored tossers would join the Havana Red Sox today.
