

NOTES OF THE A. B. C.'S.

By "Young" Knox.

O, you Dismukes!

Gordon is playing some wonderful games out there in right field these days.

Charleston took up the pitching in Monday's game and stopped the slug-ging Stars.

Dismukes was sent to cover the first inning in Wednesday's game, but "Dizzy" kept on smiling.

Kennard, formerly of West Baden Sprudels, joined the A's Wednesday and started to pitch the game.

DeMoss played a wonderful game Sunday, and it was by his daring base running that the A's won the game.

Dismukes went on another scouting trip Tuesday. Wonder what they are fixing to pull off. Something good, I know.

Santop is certainly some hitter. That ball he lifted over the fence in Tuesday's game was high and wide of the fence.

In all that game Sunday, Shively was unable to reach first base. The "pride of Bloomington" struck out three times.

Ben Taylor made several one-hand stabs Tuesday, and had either of them got away from him, it would have meant a run.

Clark is still playing his imitable game at short. Puggy Hutchison was out in uniform Monday, but did not get into action.

There were four home runs made in Monday's game. Pierce, Pettus, Allen and Powell were the lucky ones to pond the pellet.

After being derrieked in the first inning Monday, Dicta Johnson made his comeback on Tuesday and held the Stars to four hits.

Allen's fielding Tuesday was very sensational, and then Todd broke up the game in the ninth with a ripping double to left center.

Time, Tuesday; place, Northwestern ball park; ninth inning, two men out. Powell doubles, Allen doubles, Riff: Boom! Bang! Curtain.

Lloyd is still playing his wonderful game at short, although he did make two errors Tuesday, and thereby lost the game for his boys.

Kindle, the youngest member of the team, and who used to play with the West Baden Sprudels, is guarding the keystone sack for Lloyd.

After winning nineteen straight games, Redding came all the way from New York to Indianapolis to go down for his second defeat of the season.

I wonder what "Uncle Rube" said when he heard that our boys defeated the Lincoln Stars, because "Ruby" said that there was no way for the A's to beat them.

Nevertheless, the rain spoiled the Lincoln's chances, and the fans were given a chance to catch plety of "lottery," by Mr. Taylor announcing the double header Thursday.

"Judy" Gans is still guarding the sunfield for the Lincoln Stars, and he is still clouting the ball hard, too. Whenever a ball is hit to left field, you can hear the fans exclaim, "It's in the well now."

Pierce, the big "slapper" of the tars, left the team Tuesday night, and went to Cincinnati, the home of his mother, whom he had not seen for some time. He was back in time for Thursday's game, however.

Indianapolis Freeman, Indianapolis, Indiana

Saturday, July 31, 1915, Page 4, Column 4