

GIANTS WIN ONE AND LOSE ONE.

Rube Foster Makes Good His Promise
by Securing Lloyd and Gans—Last
Series Between the American
Giants and Cuban Stars Is Staged.

(By Carey B. Lewis.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 1.—Rube Foster made good his promise to give the American Giants fans Lloyd and Gans. They played Sunday and were in splendid condition and the team is greatly strengthened. The weather on Sunday was very cold and the Islanders could hardly stand the cold. It was almost at the freezing point and the Giants took the first game, 7 to 0. Villa was the only man to score a hit in the seventh inning, which was called on account of darkness. The Cubans used three pitchers, but were unable to score. The score:

CUBAN PLAYERS WIN IN 12TH.

Only one game of baseball was staged in Chicago Monday, Schorling's Park putting on a twelve-inning combat that resulted in a 2-to-1 victory for the Cuban Stars over the American Giants. The game ties up the last series between the clubs with the series billed to continue for three days without major league opposition.

Errors figured in every run, Jones dropping a throw to the plate in the twelfth that would have caught Rios. Rios won the game when he drew a pass, was sacrificed, and scored on Torrenti's hard bouncer to Rockman, which the latter recovered in time to nab the man at home if Jones had made good. The Cubans got their first run when Torrenti was safe on Gans' muff of his fly. Torrenti stole second and scored when Jones threw to the outfield to nab him at third on a steal. A pass to Hill, with a steal and Rodriguez's wild throw, gave the Giants their tally: Score:
