

NEW PITCHER FOR ROYALS.

Donaldson, Leading Western Semi-Pro Hurler, Makes Debut To-day.

John Donaldson, who ranked last year as the leading semi-pro pitcher in the ranks of the colored players of the West, has come East and signed to play with the Royal Giants. He will make his local debut this afternoon in the second game of a doubleheader between the Lincoln Giants and the Royal Giants. Joe Williams will be his opponent.

The games will be the fifth and sixth of their series. The Royals won the four played to date, two victories coming in the eleventh inning.
