

PLAY FOR SEMI-PRO TITLE.

Empey's Treat 'Em Roughs to Meet Lincoln Giants To-day.

The first of a series of three double headers to be played between the Lincoln Giants and Guy Empey's Treat 'Em Roughs for the semi-professional baseball championship of Manhattan will take place this afternoon at Dyckman Oval. Both teams have compiled splendid records this season, each having defeated the strongest nines in the East.

In an effort to prevent possible defeat by the Lincolns Empey has strengthened his team by the addition of three more major league stars. Empey has obtained the services of Larry Doyle, Frank Frisch and Jess Barnes of the Giants, and with them in the lineup his team is the only one in the East composed entirely of former or present major leaguers. Barnes will pitch against Cyclone Joe Williams in the first game and Jeff Tesreau will pitch in the second. A big turnout is expected.

The Sun, New York, NY

Sunday, October 26, 1919, Page 25, Column 7