

RED SOX PATCH UP NOW WITH THE BAY AND PLAY THEM TODAY

Ogdensburg, July 25.—It was announced that there would be no ball game this week as the management is unable to procure a team to play the Red Sox. They will play the Alexandria Bay nine at the Bay tomorrow, and the differences between the two teams have been patched up. Pop Watson is the manager of the Red Sox and is on the lookout of a pitcher as he is left with only one man who is capable of making his regular turn in the box. Donald, who has been pitching ball all season left for New York and will not return this season.

Republican-Journal, Ogdensburg, NY

Thursday, July 26, 1917, Page 7, Column 1