

Royal Giants Meet Lincolns

The Royal Giants and the Lincoln Giants will meet this afternoon in their second game this season in American League Park. In the opening game of the series two weeks ago the Royals handed the Lincolns an unexpected defeat, and the latter are out to get even. The series is to consist of six games, and the Lincolns say the Royals will not be successful again.

In to-day's conflict on the Hilltop Dick Redding, the strike-out king; Cyclone Joe Williams or Ben Taylor will occupy the box for the Lincolns, while the Royals are likely to depend on Shipp or Andrews. Both teams have been strengthened since they met two weeks ago, and this afternoon's battle promises to be hard fought from start to finish. Play will be called at 3.30 P. M.

The Evening World, New York, NY

Saturday, July 27, 1912, Sports Page 6, Column 6