

MOORHEAD WON GAME

Found the Colored Gentlemen From the
State of Tennessee Very Easy
Picking Sunday.

Manager Murray's Moorhead athletics had an easy time with the much touted Tennessee Rats, a team that is composed of colored men who are touring the northwest just now and which has been defeating many of the teams in Minnesota. The athletics put up a gilt edged game of ball in the presence of an immense crowd and many were the brilliant plays that were pulled off. At the end of the ninth the score was 11 to 6 in favor of the Moorhead boys. Fiddler and Holt were in the points for the locals and they covered their positions in fine shape, Pitcher Fiddler having no less than fifteen strike outs to his credit. The Rats produced four pitchers during the game, but the Moorhead boys had their batting eyes with them all afternoon and "all coons looked alike" to them. It was an interesting game, and the colored boys rooted with great vigor whenever they had a chance.

The next games over at Moorhead will be played on July 4 when the All-Nations and the athletics will be pitted against each other.

The Fargo Forum and Daily Republican, Fargo, ND

Monday, July 1, 1912, Page 3, Column 4