

American Giants Beat Cuban Stars in Their Final Game of Season 4-2

Schorling Park, Sept. 28.—Cubans lost their last game in Chicago Sunday by the masterly pitching of Whitworth of the American Giants, who was back in midsummer form and would have scored a shut-out but for Williams and his error. He held the Cubans to three widely scattered hits, of which one was a scratch. After holding the giants to four hits in six innings, Tolso weakened in the seventh and allowed three hits, with two stolen bases sandwiched in, producing two runs, which proved enough to win the game. The hitting of Torrenti and Whitworth, coupled with the fielding of the former and the pitching of the latter, were the outstanding features of a fast and interesting game.
