

Colored Star Outpitches National Leaguers for the Second Time.

Dyckman Oval, New York City, Nov. 2.—Guy Empey's Treat 'Em Rough baseball team, composed of all big leaguers, were defeated for the second time in as many Sundays by the Lincoln Giants. Empey's team is composed of the following stars: Doyle, Frisch, Burns, Zimmerman, Teserau, Pol Perritt and Barnes of New York Giants; Kavanaugh of St. Louis Browns; Haffle of Boston Nationals; Mays of New York Americans, and five other stars who played under assumed names. Jess Barnes, who pitched against the Lincolns, is one of the star pitchers of the National League. This game gives a fan a chance to get a line on our Colored stars and proves beyond a reasonable doubt that men like Joe Williams, Dick Redding, Wickwire, Donalson and G. Williams, as pitchers, have the necessary qualifications to make good in the major leagues, and that it behooves the powers that be to get busy and stop letting their prejudice get the better of their judgment and conduct the game as a real, and only as a real, red-blooded sport should be. Stop looking at a man's color and judge his bailyty alone. The following box scores will allow a student to draw his own conclusions:

L. A. White Sox (colored) vs. Hazards B. B. Club, (white).

The L. A. White Sox has reorganized under the management of Mr. G. H. Carr. The White Sox have one of the strongest Clubs on the Pacific coast and expect to enter the Winter League and also to carry away the homes. The Sox went up against a strong White Club known as the Hazard (Stars) and won the game 6 to 0. The sensation of the game was the pitching of Wood's. His work was something any professional pitcher would be proud of. He struck out the first eleven men that faced him. Allowed only two men to reach first and one to second. It must be remembered that once Wood was the property of (the old master) Rube Foster and as his owner went bad he was sent back to the coast, but he sure has come back. All the Sox want is the support of the L. A. B. B. Fans and from the look of Sunday's crowd, they have got that; the attendance was 1500 and we must not forget that any club under the competent management of Mr. Carr is compelled to have success, as he knows the game from A to Z and is always in the game from start to finish. He plays the position of First Base like old man Worrior and is a veteran of the game. The Sox have a player by the name of Hawkins, formerly of the old 25th Inf. Another seasoned player who starred against the all star team when they played abroad. The White Sox will meet the Downy Cly, Sunday, at Downy Park and expect to repeat last Sunday's performance. Let us hope. Baker is still doing his stuff behind the bat. Mr. W. H. Johnson, prop. of the Ceres

Pool and Billiard Parlor is over the White Sox.

Keep the good work up Mr. Carr as we need more players in the game like you. Read the Whip and keep posted on the Winter League B. B.
