

The Louisville Cubs are under a new management.

Who holds the title, the Gophers or the Philadelphia Giants?

The Birmingham Giants play a good game to the conviction of the Mobilians.

The Gophers' record for season of 1908: Games won, 116; games lost, 21; games tied, 1.

Joe Martina, of New Orleans, breaks the world's long-distance throw by hurling a baseball 417 feet, which is 10 feet farther than any other man has succeeded in throwing.

Libby, Mont., has a baseball club that has never been defeated. The club has been in existence for fifteen years, and claims the world's record for longest winning streak.

FOUR KINGS WANT GAMES.

Special to THE FREEMAN.

DUQUOIN, Ill.—The Four Kings are open for engagements. They recently defeated a white team in southern Illinois by a score of 3 to 1. The game lasted only one hour and nineteen minutes.

CUBS MAY LOSE EMORY.

Special to THE FREEMAN.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—It is rumored that Jim Emory, center fielder for the Louisville Cubs, will leave the team soon. Toney, formerly with the West Baden, Ind., Sprudels, is now with the Cubs.

A TEAM OF ALL NATIONS.

Sometimes even baseball teams are appropriately dubbed by the public. Here we have the Bangor team, of the Northeru Maine League, known as the "Congress of Nations." Among the players are: McGuiggan, an Irishman; Lott, a Canadian; Gardelia, an Italian; Pond, an Englishman; Sedequist, a Swede, and among the others are included a Hebrew, a full-blooded Indian, a Scotchman and a German. The manager, of course, is an American, and the emergency a Connaught man glorifying in the mellifluous name of Marcellus Finnegan.
