

HILDALE COMING

New York, July 9.—Another attraction of unusual interest to baseball fans in Harlem is the coming of Edward Bolden's Hilldale team of Darby, Pa., who have been signed up to battle with Jeff Tesreau's Bears at the Dyckman Oval on Sunday, July 25. Many familiar faces of other days, well known to Harlem, will be seen in the visitors' lineup. Among them are Santop, one of the best catchers in semi-pro baseball; Francis, Whitworth and Barber, formerly of Rube Foster's American Giants; Phil Cockrell, "the boy wonder," Downs and others. The Hilldales have been licking everything in sight and it is the opinion of local fans that they will carry the bacon back to Slow Town.

Chicago Defender, Chicago, IL

Saturday, July 10, 1920, Page 9, Column 2