

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 16.—Before a crowd of 6,000 fans last Saturday at Howard field the Howards fell before the onslaughts of Kenneth Gardner, who hurled for the fast Royal Giants, by the score of 3 to 1. Besides pitching airtight ball, Gardner started a rally in the seventh inning by hitting a slashing three-bagger to left field fence, but was left on third when his teammates failed to locate the slants of Lenny, the opposing pitcher.

Chicago Defender, Chicago, IL

Saturday, July 17, 1920, Page 9, Column 2