
Regained Strength.

This spring, White has regained his old strength and has been pitching semi-pro ball around New York. He held the strong Cuban Giants to one hit last Sunday and this was brought to the attention of Griffith. Yesterday he reported at the ball park and did so well that he was signed immediately. He may pitch the morning game tomorrow.

The Washington Times, Washington, DC

Wednesday, May 29, 1912, Page 16, Column 1