The A. B. C.'s, the Sprudels, the Pluto's and a few more of the crack teams of Indiana ought to do some good things this season.

Base ball zeal is still on the increase. Some tossing in the extreme West and in the South where December is as pleasant as May.

The Union base ball team of Pittsburg, Pa., is made up of players from the Leland Giants, St. Paul Gophers and the Cleveland Giants. The aggregation is particularly strong and will take the field with great confidence.

The base ball fever in Indianapolis was not so high in the past season as it was the season before. What's the matter? It appears that the Sunday game is here to stay, according to a recent court decision. It means one very good day, not to speak of the interest that might be worked up for ball playing through the week.

The following is a bunch of base ball champions of the Tenth cavalry, stationed at Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont, all members of Troop B: Turner, cap-

PENSACOLA, FLA.

By Walker W. Thomas.

Special to THE FREEMAN.

The Pensacola Giants are getting in trim for the coming season, which will start here March 18. Lew Oliver is running from 10 to 20 miles a day to reduce weight, he having gained so many pounds since the season of last year. Cy Edwards, better known as Kid Boots, is claiming to be the champion player, although Joe Scotland and Jim Patton haven't lost out yet. Look out Boots for those. K. C. R. G. Goldstucker is making all arrangements to handle the crowds which will attend these games the coming season. Lincoln Park has just been finished off with $500 diamond. Great times next month here. Watch The Freeman. Will give all details. Can be found at all colored drug store.
