

LOCALS WILL PLAY INDEPENDENT BALL TODAY

Game With Occidentals Will Be
First Out of Winter League.

JESSE STOVAL TO PITCH

Ike Butler Will Handle Indicator in Today's and Sunday's Matches.

San Diego's ex-winter league baseball team will make its debut in independent ball this afternoon, weather permitting, against the colored Occidentals of Salt Lake City.

Palmer expects a close game, as the negroes have lost but one game since coming to the coast, and that to the strong Los Angeles coast league club, shortly after the close of the regular season. The Occidentals include on their list many a man who, but for his color, would be playing in major league company.

Jesse Stowal will pitch for San Diego today, and Hugh Kellackey will be at the other end of the battery. In Sunday's game Palmer will play Carson in the box and Jack Myers behind the rubber. Annis will start the game in the box for the colored lads today, but no selection has yet been made for tomorrow's struggle.

Ike Butler, will not be expected to do any slab work, but will handle the indicator in both games.

The Occidentals are due to arrive on the 1 o'clock train this afternoon and will immediately proceed to the park. The game will be called at 2:30. The teams will line up as follows:

Occidentals — Langley, catcher;
Annis, pitcher; Cutter, first base;
Robinson, second base; Hawkins,
third base; Lane, short stop; Black,
right field; Burns, center field; Mid-

San; Diego—Kellackey, catcher
Stoval, pitcher; Autry, first base;
Bennett, second base; Downie, third base; McCarthy, short stop; Myers, right field; Hosp, center field;
