

GOOD GAMES FOR VINTON PARK TODAY

If Rain Doesn't Interfere Several Good Contests Will Be Pulled Off.

Midway Giants to Play Storz Triumphs—Two Contests at Florence.

If the wise old bird who looks after the weather decides that Nebraska has had enough rain for the present and the wind doesn't blow any colder than it did against Dr. Cook's back while he was discovering the pole a number of interesting baseball clashes will be dished up for the amusement and edification of local fanatics today.

Two mix-ups of high standard are booked for Pa Rourke's Vinton street yard this afternoon. The first match will be between the Hollys and Americans. These teams have had several hot scrimmages in the past, and as a good deal of fever exists a warm battle for the honors is a surety.

Giants and Storz.

Immediately after this promising fray the Midway Giants, the fast colored aggregation, will attempt to walk over the Storz Triumphs, which is not going to be such a trilling sort of a feat to accomplish, according to the dope. The colored boys think they can repeat the dose they administered last Sunday, but the Triumphs are in fine fettle and if confidence can win a game the Giants may as well stay home. The first game will be on tap promptly at two bells and the second contest will be put on at 3:30. The line-ups:

FIRST GAME.

There will be two contests at Florence, the first between the Farrell Syrups and Hanscom Parks, the second, Farrell Syrups vs. Monmouth Parks. The sticky outfit seems to be filled to the brim with baseball, tackling two first-class outfits the same day that way. Anyway you look at it, that is certainly travelling some.

The creamery chaps will also travel some, only they are going to hike to Underwood, Ia., and endeavor to show the nine of that village how the great American game is really played by a sure-enough team. By the by, Harry Cross, who books games for the Alamo lads, says that their new twirler, Eisenhart, will make the Iowans wish that Halley's comet had cracked the diamond clear off the earth the previous evening.

You will find the Townsends and the Ramblers scampering around Fort Omaha this afternoon. It has been stealthily asserted that a few round ones have been wagered on the outcome and a warm combat is promised in any event.

Indians at Fort Crook.

At the other fort Green's famous Nebraska Indians take on the soldiers. The Fort Crook boys certainly know how to club horsehide and if they have a good day on the defense even the fast company they meet will not be immune to the sting of defeat.

Out at Thirtieth and Spaulding the gallant fire ladders meet the Rangers and a lively battle is anticipated.

Benson has a double-header booked. The J. S. Cross bunch will attempt to wallop the Omaha Giants, and the Benson Eagles are after the scalps of the Storz Coronas. Gurnoss, lately hitched to the Coronas, is flinging great ball, eighteen batters falling victim to the foolers last Sunday.

Snuff Smith is at present doing the tossing for N. E. Carter's southtown aggregation. He has steam to burn, good kinks and is very heady. Good judges who have been watching his work say mink or state league managers might do well to cast their optics in his direction, just on suspicion that they are overlooking a bet.

You can't keep that child, Leonard C. Marsh, out of the game. For a couple of years he sequestered himself, but his seclusion was located and now all you have to do to arrange wrangles with the newly organized Hoctors is to drop a card to 709 North Twentythird street, South' Omaha, bearing his appellation.

A new rookie tagged Philbin has been signed to hold down left lot for the Storz Triumphs.

R. Young, the promising young slanter, beat it to Superior, Neb., last week.

At Columbus Ed Clair, formerly star backstop for the L. G. A.'s, is considered the best that ever came down the pike. He cops a couple of swats per game, as a rule, and catches like a jewel.

Manager Hozi of the Gas company would like to schedule Saturday games. Douglas 502 will bring results. Logan Barr has agreed to captain the gas gang, and as a failure to make good he has never experienced any success to speak of.

Rubber Tracy is scouting the woods for trouble. He controls the G. & J.'s and wants Saturday contests. His phone is Douglas 1815.

C. L. Byars of Plattsmouth would like to hear from some manager requiring the services of a good pitcher or short stop with minor and semi-professional league experience.
