Whitworth Pitches Shutout Ball

By Albert Smith

Sunday, June 29, 1919—Schorling Park, before a crowd of 15,000 people in the most exciting game of the season Whitworth, the American Giant's Ace, made a record for himself that will long be remembered by the baseball fans of this section by blanking the Fairbanks Morse team of Beloit, Wisconsin. It came as a surprise to the fans because the Beloit team has made a matchless record this season by defeating all comers and on the other hand the American Giants had many of its best men on the hospital list. The feature of the game was the superb work of Charleston on bases.

BELOIT BALL TEAM

Beloit's Ball Team Buys New Bats

About 2:00 p.m. on last Tuesday, one of A. G. Spaulding & Company's wagons drew up to the American Giant's Park and unloaded about two dozen new bats addressed to the Fairbanks Morse Ball Team. One of the Giant's fans yelled to the Beloit bench that it wasn't new bats they needed, but some one to wield them.
